Selected financial information is outlined below and should be read in conjunction with the Company's unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements (the "Financial Statements") and related management's discussion and analysis (the "MD&A") for the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, which are available on the Company's SEDAR+ profile at www.sedarplus.ca.

All figures referred to in this press release are presented in U.S. dollars, unless otherwise noted.

The Company's revenue for the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, increased 187% and 184% from the comparative periods, respectively. This overall increase in revenue is a result of the Company rebalancing its U.S. domestic sales strategy in 2023 by focusing on increasing wholesale revenue growth with retailers and distributors ("B2B") while continuing to build brand awareness through direct-to-consumer ("D2C") marketing to increase website traffic and conversions on its ecommerce platform. The Company's competitive pricing strategy implemented in 2023 has also contributed to higher sales volume and overall higher revenue versus the comparative periods.

Gross margins improved to 47% during the second quarter from a negative 53% in the comparative period. The comparative 2022 period was negative due to an inventory write-down of $24,966. Overall, the Company has achieved a lower cost of goods sold per unit due to production cost efficiencies. The improved cost structure has enabled the Company to adopt a more competitive pricing strategy which is contributing to an overall increase in unit sales and total revenue across both D2C and B2B sales channels while still contributing to an overall improvement in gross margin as a percentage of revenue.

Losses from operations during the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 improved from the comparative periods mainly due to higher gross margins and lower general and administration costs which was partially offset by increased sales, marketing, and investor relation costs.

The Company's net loss and comprehensive loss for the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 improved over the same periods in 2022 mainly due to additional prior period costs incurred in connection with the June 24, 2022 reverse takeover transaction.

As at June 30, 2023, the Company's combined cash and non-cash working capital balances (see "Non-GAAP measures" below) were $0.3 million. On April 26, 2023, the Company completed a note financing (the "Note Financing") with certain insiders and other private investors of the Company for aggregate gross proceeds of $538,074 (CAD $733,500). Proceeds from the Note Financing are being used toward marketing and sales efforts, working capital requirements and other general corporate purposes.
